How the Movement Began?

The Boy Scout Movement had a simple start in the year 1907 when a Major General of Army Lord Baden Powell conducted an experimental camp in Brown sea Island in England with 22 boys. The successful conduct of the camp and publication of the Book "Scouting for Boys" in a fortnightly marked the start of the Boy Scout Movement.

In the year 1910, Crystal Palace Rally was held where Girls wearing the boy Scout uniform appeared and wanted to join the Scout Movement. Lord Baden Powell decided to start a movement for Girls with the help of his sister Agnes Baden Powell.

Scouting started in India in the year 1909, when Captain T.H. Baker established the first Scout Troop in Bangalore and got it registered with imperial Headquarters, London. Subsequently, Scout Troops were formed at Bangalore, Calcutta, Kirkee (Pune), Simla, Madras, Jabalpur, Lonavla (Mumbai) and registered with the Imperial Headquarters during 1910 and 1911. These units were open to European and Anglo Indian Children only. The first Guide Company in India was started in Jabalpur, Central India in 1911.

Scouting method of education strongly believes in learning by doing. The method includes progressive and stimulating programs for the members. Scouters and Guiders are engaged in interesting games and outdoor activities to increase their connectivity with mother nature.

Message from The Principal

Some of the greatest personalities of the world have been inspiring young generations around the world. Their lives and deeds showed us the path towards a world where love, selfless services and sacrifice for others are the motto. Mother Teresa, Nelson Mandela, M K Gandhi, Martin Luther King etc. played a great role in articulating these principles of humanity.

Baden-Powell a writer, soldier initiated the Scouting movement. Scouting/Guiding aimed at formation of character, formation of sound health and training in the useful skills so that the youth take a constructive role in society as a responsible citizen. Inculcating a sense of service and commitment towards humanity is one of the prime value premises of Goalpara College.

The BSG Unit of the college has been consistently demonstrating their excellence in different arena. In their pursuit to serving the cause of humanity. These volunteers have been enthusiastically devoting themselves on diverse issues such as gender disparity, Ek Bharat Shrestha Bharat etc.
